

Where do Grey Fantails go?

Grey Fantails are lovely little birds to catch insects on the distinctive ringing call, people to investigate disappear from and return in they go for the are interesting in different places migration Fantails probably west, but I don't know places they stay around they receive the influx from ours are now? I hope they are that swoop and dart out from branches wing. They have a very and often come closer to what you're doing. But they Beechworth every April September. Where do winter? Grey Fantails that populations in have their own local patterns. Our Grey move further north and where exactly. In some all year. In warmer places, colder areas. I wonder where enjoying a warm winter retreat.

Note: I just saw two grey fantails on Sunday 15th July. That's the first time in 3 years I've seen them in winter. I wonder why they're here and where their mates are?
